OPERATING PROCEDURE
for
WVEC RADIO
ELIZABETHTOWN COLLEGE
ELIZABETHTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

A temporary statement of policy

- I. AUTHORIZED PERSONS ONLY are permitted in the control room. This regulation has been established to decrease the possibility of damage to the expensive equipment.
 - A. It is the duty of the man on the board to see that no one, other than authorized persons is permitted to enter the control room. However, spectators are permitted in the studio where they can see and hear everything that is going on, except when programming from studio.
 - B. It is suggested that the door be kept shut and locked; the door to the studio should be kept open.
 - C. Unless it is necessary for you to enter the control room, don't bother the man on the board. It is very distracting to have people going in and out and making noise when you are trying to program. A list of those persons authorized to have access to the control room is given in APPENDIX A.
 - D. Any individual(s) not included in APPENDIX A is/are not PERMITTED in the control room at any time, for any reason. This includes building proctors, girl friends, buddies, parents, et al.
- II. Anyone working on the board will use special care in handling all equipment. We have had frequent breakdowns to date, many of which could have been avoided through proper handling of equipment. TAKE IT EASY. None of the controls need to be forced. Be gentle with pots, turntable gears, and tape recorder switches in particular.
- III. The use of obscene, indecent, or profane language; unauthorized disclosure or use of messages; superfluous, false, or deceptive signals; the use of off-color jokes and expressions; and the transmission of unassigned call signals are prohibited by the FCC, and WVEC Radio.
 - A. Note that certain albums, especially some show albums and vocal groups (Limelitters, Kingston Trio, etc.) have certain cuts which are barred from the air. Check with Librarian or Program Director before using any such albums.

A. Temporary Statement of Policy

I. AUTHORIZED PERSONNEL are permitted to enter the control room. This regulation has been established to decrease the possibility of damage to the expensive equipment.

A. It is the duty of the man on the board to see that no one other than authorized persons is permitted to enter the control room. However, spectators are permitted in the studio where they can see and hear everything that is going on, except when programming from studio.

B. It is suggested that the door be kept shut and locked; then door to the studio should be kept open.

C. Unless it is necessary for you to enter the control room, do not bother the man on the board. It is very disturbing to have people going in and out and making noise when you are trying to program. A list of these persons authorized to have access to the control room is given in APPENDIX A.

D. Any individual(s) not included in APPENDIX A is/are not PERMITTED in the control room at any time, for any reason. This includes visiting students, girl friends, babies, parents, etc.

II. Anyone working on the board will use special care in handling all equipment. He must handle equipment with care, many of which could have been avoided through proper handling of equipment. TAKE IT EASY. Some of the controls need to be forced. Be gentle with pots, turnable gears, and tape recorder switches in particular.

III. The use of obscene, indecent, or profane language; unauthorized disclosure or use of messages; confidential; false or deceptive signals; the use of off-color jokes and expressions; and the transmission of unassigned call signals are prohibited by the FCC and WVEC Radio.

A. Note that certain albums, especially some show albums and vocal groups (Limeliters, Kingston Trio, etc.) have certain cuts which are barred from the air. Check with Librarian or Program Director before using any such albums.

- IV. Watch your mike pot--there have been several complaints concerning accidental slips where talking was audible in the background.
- V. When a particular type program is scheduled, that type music, and ONLY that type, is to be played. The only exception--if a specified album is not available for Showtime or Date with the Classics, then a similar album of the same type music should be substituted.
- VI. On Easy Listening, Showtime, and Date with the Classics, chatter should be kept to a minimum. Don't play single cuts; play three or four or even a whole side at a time.
- VII. NO INTERVIEWS are permitted with anyone during programming, except as directed on the program log with express consent of the Program Director. This DOES NOT apply to news programs. These are under the direction of the News Director.
- VIII. Program Logs are maintained not only for the benefit and convenience of station personnel, but also in conjunction with the regulations as stated in our IBS membership, and thus must be kept up to date and accurate. Please help us maintain the necessary information by signing the time and your initials as directed at the bottom of each sheet.
- IX. Once you have signed up for a specific time to be on the air, no changes will be made except in exceptional cases approved by the Program Director and/or the Executive Committee. Help avoid schedule changes and mix-ups by checking your personal schedule before signing up for air time.
- X. Following each program the board man going off will replace used albums in the proper order on the shelf according to the code numbers (numbered with ink marker) on the album covers
 - A. Insure that each record is placed in the proper cover. The same applies to tapes.
- XI. During campus political campaigns, any and all political announcements will be on an impartial, equal-time basis, under the direction of WVEC News. NO personal plugs of any kind will be permitted

- IV. Watch your side pot--there have been several complaints concerning accidental slips where talking was audible in the background.
- V. When a particular type program is scheduled, that type music and GHI that type is to be played. The only exception--if a specified album is not available for Showtime or Late with the Classics, then a similar album of the same type music should be substituted.
